

FOSTERING

Raise a puppy. Change a life.

Foster families play a critical role in the journey of a Dog Guide, who will go on to empower a Canadian living with a disability.

Foster families are responsible for:

- Basic obedience and house-training
- Socialization in different environments
- Attending puppy classes and vet visits

Foster puppies stay with foster families for approximately 14 months. At around 15 months, the dog comes back to the foundation for formal training.
